MESSAGE FROM ICSD PRESIDENT DR. VALERY RUKHLEDEV

Dear participants of the 46th ICSD Congress and to the extended Deaflympics Family!

I welcome you to the beautiful city of Samsun for the Congress of the 23rd Summer Deaflympics 2017! How exciting is it to begin the countdown to the Opening Ceremony of the first-ever Deaflympics in Turkey!

Although the Deaf community's attention will turn to the athletes and the competition, I am sure that all of you feel the anticipation building for the Games. Everything is ready! Sports infrastructure is ready as well as the spectators, and most importantly - our great athletes are ready!

I've been to Samsun numerous times and I've been very pleased to see how initial challenges have been addressed and that sports venues have been completed following positive cooperation between ICSD, Organizing Committee and NDSFs. The standard of the Deaflympics village is of the highest level with the best training facilities. This is very important, as our athletes are the heart of the Deaflympics.

I must admit that it has been a testing journey for ICSD and our friends from Turkey. It is not an exaggeration to say that last year was hard for Turkey and that it slowed down the preparation for the Games. In a way the Deaflympics became a catalyst for peace that will go down in Turkish history. Team work is crucial in such cases of emergency. I express my deep gratitude to the Ministry of Youth and Sports in Turkey, the Deaflympics Samsun Organizing Committee, local authorities and all of you for your help, support and solidarity during this difficult period.

Deaflympics is a great event for all, regardless of age, hearing loss or athletic ability. It is important to encourage the Deaf to engage in sports. Due to their tremendous achievements, some Deaf sportsmen show results at elite level.

I would like to stress again the importance of our relationships with International Deaf Sports Federations around the world. This is essential to increase young people's participation in sports as nowadays they are becoming more and more addicted to the electronic devices. It will allow us to make a greater contribution to the development of our Deaf youth.

INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE
OF SPORTS FOR THE DEAF

You all know that we signed the Memorandum of Understanding with the International Olympic Committee in 2016. This covers issues such as transparent governance in National Deaf Sports Federations and building up credibility of Deaf Sport, all of which are crucial to us. In 2017 we published the IOC Code of Ethics on our website and we encourage all of you to comply with it.

In accordance with the IOC Recommendations 7 of the Olympic Agenda 2020 the ICSD signed the Memorandum of Understanding with the Olympic Channel. The Deaflympics will be broadcasted on the Olympic Channel for the first time in history. This year is shaping up to be a significant one for the ICSD.

Thank you for your contribution, for working for the good of our great athletes all around the world. Please, encourage others to do the same! Developing Deaf sport, living and promoting healthy life style is not just wonderful, but interesting, fashionable and prestigious. You know it from your own experience by devoting yourselves to the development of the Deaf Sport.

At the IOC Sport and Active Society Commission, which I am a member of, under the leadership of Mr. Sam Ramsamy, we adopted a slogan 'Let's get moving!' I suggest holding these Deaflympics and spending this year and many years ahead under the same slogan!

I wish you successful work at the Congress and unforgettable 23rd Summer Deaflympics!

Sincerely,

Dr. Valery Rukhledev

Let's get moving! (IOC Sport & Active Society Commission)

21st Summer Deaflympics in Taipei, Chinese Taipei

INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE

INTRODUCTION

The Deaflympics is the event at which deaf athletes from 109 countries compete. We were called the World Games for the Deaf until 2001.

The first games were held in Paris in 1924. The event has been held every four years since, apart from a break for World War II.

The first Games were so successful that during its session held 16 August 1924, the delegations of the participating countries created the International Committee of Sports for the Deaf (Comité International des Sports des Sourds – CISS). Its main goal was to create the union of National Sports Federations for the Deaf and to develop the Constitution of the newly formed organization. It was also decided that year to conduct the World Summer World Games for the Deaf under the aegis of the ICSD every four years.

In January 1949 the first-ever Winter World Games for the Deaf were held in Austria involving 33 sportsmen from five countries. In 1955 the International Olympic Committee recognized the ICSD as an International Organization with the Olympic Status and in two years the ICSD started to change the Constitution in compliance with the Olympic Charter. In May 2001, following a decision of the IOC Executive Committee the World Games for the Deaf were renamed the Deaflympics.

Participation in the Deaflympics is restricted to persons who are deaf. This has been defined by a hearing loss of at least 55dB. The use of hearing aids or external cochlear implant aids during any Deaflympics event is prohibited. Every competition is held in compliance with the rules of a relevant International Sports Federation (FIFA, FILA, FIVB, etc.). In some sports (such as swimming, athletics etc.) a light is used instead of sound signals.

The ICSD consists of national independent Sports Deaf Federations from more than 109 countries worldwide combined into four (4) regional confederations (Europe, Asia-Pacific, Panamericas and the Africas).

PRINCIPLES OF THE DEAF SPORTS MOVEMENT

The ICSD activity is regulated in accordance with the principles of the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities.

The ICSD is also governed by the principles set out in the Olympic Charter. The Olympic Charter is a document in which the fundamental principles of Olympism and rules adopted by the IOC are outlined.

Fundamental Principles of Olympism

Olympism is a philosophy of life, exalting and combining in a balanced whole the qualities of body, will and mind. Blending sport with culture and education, Olympism seeks to create a way of life based on the joy of effort, the educational value of good example, social responsibility and respect for universal fundamental ethical principles. The goal of Olympism is to place sport at the service of the harmonious development of humankind, with a view to promoting a peaceful society concerned with the preservation of human dignity.

The Olympic Movement is the concerted, organized, universal and permanent action, carried out under the supreme authority of the IOC, of all individuals and entities who are inspired by the values of Olympism. It covers the five continents. It reaches its peak with the bringing together of the world's athletes at the great sports festival, the Olympic Games. Its symbol is five interlaced rings.

The practice of sport is a human right. Every individual must have the possibility of practicing sport, without discrimination of any kind and in the Olympic spirit, which requires mutual understanding with a spirit of friendship, solidarity and fair play.

Sports organizations within the Olympic Movement shall have the rights and obligations of autonomy, which include freely establishing and controlling the rules of sport, determining the structure and governance of their organizations.

The enjoyment of the rights and freedoms set forth in this Olympic Charter shall be secured without discrimination of any kind, such as race, colour, sex, sexual orientation, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status.

Belonging to the Olympic Movement requires compliance with the Olympic Charter and recognition by the IOC, a privilege that has been extended to the ICSD.

INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE

CONGRESS

The ICSD Congress takes place before each Deaflympics. It deals with coordination of issues from regional ICSD representatives, from our International Deaf Sports Federations and these issues are addressed in the spirit of promoting the Olympic ideas around the development of sport and physical education among the Deaf and the strengthening of relations in international sports.

Congress is the ICSD supreme body. It is a meeting of ICSD members held every two years before Winter or Summer Deaflympics. The Congress decisions are final.

The ICSD Congress has the following authority:

- To ratify new ICSD Members;
- To elect the President, Vice-Presidents and other members of the ICSD Executive Board;
- To elect the host town of the Deaflympics;
- To approve the annual report and the ICSD budget.

An ICSD Congress has quorum when there is at least fifty percent of Full Members in good standing. Congress decisions are made by a simple majority. To make amendments to the ICSD Constitution requires at least two thirds of the quote.

Every ICSD member has one vote. When counting votes, those who have abstained or submitted blank or damaged ballots are not taken into account. Proxy voting is not allowed. Secret voting occurs only when it is stipulated by the Olympic Charter or by decision of the Chairperson, or if requested by at least one quarter of present ICSD Members. Where the votes are equal the decision is made by the Congress Chairperson.

ICSD REPORT

First, we want to thank everybody who supported Dr. Valery Rukhledev's candidature for the ICSD presidency. Within these four years, in close cooperation with the leaders of the National Deaf Sports Federations from many countries, we have managed to overcome many obstacles in ICSD's management, and we continue to move forward!

After the elections, our main objective was the building of a long-term cooperation with the main sports organization in the world - the International Olympic Committee which included moving the ICSD office to Switzerland, restoring ICSD corporate and financial documents, and ICSD marketing. A lot of work has been accomplished and we are proud to say that we managed to achieve a lot.

In September 2013, almost immediately after assuming the presidency, Dr. Rukhledev met with the IOC President, Thomas Bach, who was also elected the same year. At this meeting issues regarding promoting Deaf sport were raised and it became clear what steps should be undertaken to ensure that the Deaf Sport receives more recognition. Soon after this, the ICSD Executive Board meeting was held, where all the crucial tasks and plans for the further development of the Deaf Sport were planned.

2014

Early in 2014 we began to implement the idea of holding the Winter Deaflympics in Russia. A lot of meetings were held with representatives of the Russian Government, and as a result an agreement was signed to hold the 18th Winter Deaflympics in Khanty-Mansiysk in Russia.

Later on we re-established some of the positions of the technical directors and appointed new ones for the period until 2017. The responsibilities of technical directors for each sport also included the control over the preparation of sports venues for the 23rd Summer Deaflympics in Samsun.

At the same time we had working meetings with the UN Secretary General, Ban Ki-moon, IOC President, Thomas Bach and Mr. Sam Ramsamy. Mr. Ramsamy was the chair of the Working Group that later on created Recommendation number Seven for the Olympic Agenda 2020. Here we must add a few words about this important document for the IOC and ICSD. Olympic Agenda 2020 is a strategic road map for the future of the Olympic movement. It has forty (40) recommendations that show uniqueness of the Olympic Games and strengthening Sport in the Society.

Dr. Rukhledev was given an honor to be invited as an expert in this group, where he made a presentation for representatives of various sports organizations and the IOC in Lausanne (Switzerland) on a subject of a merger of Paralympic and Deaf sports. The idea was that it would not be workable for the time being. This speech was appreciated and gave the IOC officials a more accurate understanding of the Deaf sport peculiarities. The issue of the unification of the Paralympics and the Deaflympics then was removed the agenda for this meeting.

It should be also noted that at the UN Committee on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities, of which ICSD President is a member, he had repeatedly raised the issue of the creation of the UN Sports Commission that could regulate the legal aspects of not only the Deaf sport, but of all persons with disabilities in general.

In 2014 six World Championships were held including for: swimming; tennis and golf in the USA; handball and basketball in Turkey, and junior wrestling in Armenia.

In 2015, ICSD held the Winter Deaflympics in Khanty-Mansiysk / Magnitogorsk. One of the IOC representatives came to the 18th Winter Deaflympics in Khanty-Mansiysk in 2015 and left with a strong impression from the games. Throughout 2015 until the beginning 2016 we were constantly in touch with the IOC and began preparing a draft Memorandum of Understanding in consultation with the IOC..

In 2015 ICSD conducted 10 World Deaf Championships in various types of sports: basketball in Chinese Taipei; junior and open badminton in Bulgaria; junior and open tennis in the UK; swimming and junior orienteering in the United States of America; bowling in Italy and futsal in Thailand.

Also in 2015, the World Olympian Forum took place in Moscow where ICSD President participated along with President of the Russian Federation Vladimir Putin, IOC President Thomas Bach, the Patron of the World Olympians Association, HSH Albert II, Sovereign Prince of Monaco and the President of the World Olympians Association Joel Bouzou.

In March 2016 the Memorandum of Understanding between the ICSD and the IOC was signed. The signing of this Memorandum means that the ICSD is in good standing with the IOC. We also realized that if we kept the IOC constantly informed about our activities and closely collaborate with the IOC, our relationship will only get better and go to a new level. This was a crucial step in the global Deaf Sports development.

At the beginning of 2016 we started building relations with International Sports Federations and associations of Deaf sports. We also participated in the Symposium of the World Anti-Doping Agency (WADA), in the SportAccord Convention.

We relocated the ICSD headquarters to Lausanne (Switzerland), which is the Olympic capital of the world, where key International Sports Federations and Organizations are located. Deaf sport will finally be at the same level with international sports federations and organizations. We are heard and we began to be acknowledged in the global sports community.

ICSD has conducted nine World Deaf Championships: including junior wrestling in Iran; football in Italy; athletics in Bulgaria; martial arts, beach volleyball and table tennis in Turkey; golf in Denmark and shooting in Russia.

A landmark event was the launch of the Countdown Ceremony of the '365 days before the 23rd Summer Deaflympics in Samsun' and soon we will see the Deaf athletes competing to be the best in their respective sports.

While working on the development of the Deaf Sport, ICSD President was appointed in one of the main IOC commissions 'Sport and Active Society Commission', under the leadership of Mr. Sam Ramsamy. This Commission is very important for the entire sports community and for the ICSD in particular, because it is addressing the main issues of Youth in Sports.

Negotiations were held with the Olympic Channel. As a result, ICSD and the Olympic Channel signed a Memorandum of Understanding. This year the Deaflympics will be broadcasted to the entire world. The Olympic Channel is essential for the Deaf Sport development. It is watched by a lot of people around the world. Watching competitions of Deaf athletes may change attitudes towards the Deaf community. We are standing on the threshold of seeing unique achievements and making new discoveries. The signing of the Memorandum of Understanding between the ICSD and the Olympic Channel is undoubtedly a huge progress.

During 2017, our main work was related to the preparations for the 23rd Summer Deaflympics in Samsun. There were a lot of meetings and trips and, finally, Samsun is ready to host the 23rd Summer Deaflympics.

Along with our achievements in the diplomatic area we held a number of World Deaf Championships: curling in Russia; alpine skiing and snowboard in Austria and ice hockey in the United States in 2017.

We continued working with World Anti-Doping Agency and visited WADA Symposium for the second time. We would like to add a few words about doping regulation here. The World Anti-Doping Code is the main document, which provides the basis for the anti-doping policies, rules and regulations in sports worldwide, as well as to the ICSD. Since its adoption on 1 January 2004, the WADA Code has been a very powerful and effective tool for battling doping.

The ICSD adopted the World Anti-Doping Code on 23 February 2006. There were taken 88 doping in 2016 in 13 sport disciplines. After receiving results one athlete was disqualified.

The ICSD is doing everything to ensure the Deaf sport to be clean. The ICSD has good relations with WADA due to the fact that ICSD annually submit a report for the doping control.

To summarize, ICSD were able to join the Olympic Family and to sign the Memorandum of Understanding with the IOC and the Olympic Channel. The Deaflympics became the first third-party event that received Olympic Channel support. We have officially registered a new corporate ICSD identity and headquarters in Lausanne and opened a bank account there. Launching of charity funds, increasing marketing and finding sponsorships is one of our many tasks we want to do next.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

The Memorandum of Understanding was signed by the Presidents of the IOC and the ICSD, Thomas Bach and Valery Rukhledev, in line with the Recommendation No. 7 of the program Olympic Agenda 2020, which requires the strengthening of 'relations with the organizations for persons with disabilities in order to ensure effective joint activities in all possible areas, including technical assistance, communication and promotion of events via the Olympic Channel'. The IOC will also work with the ICSD by supporting the athletes through the educational IOC program IOC Athlete Learning Gateway (Educational portal for athletes) and the program Olympic Athletes' Hub (Portal for Olympic athletes) and through the implementation plan of the Olympic Movement Code on the Prevention of the Manipulation of Competitions.

Olympic Agenda 2020 is a strategic plan for the Olympic movement development, which was unanimously adopted at the IOC session in December 2014, of which Dr. Rukhledev was one of the experts. IOC President Thomas Bach noticed that working with athletes with different abilities and providing access to sport with all its opportunities and benefits is a fundamental Olympic value. Cooperation with the IOC gives new opportunities to the ICSD to realize the development goals and improve the status of Deaf sports. The Deaflympics become a significant event for any country that hosts them. It is also an indicator of socially orientated politics in different countries, depoliticization of questions of mutual relations between the two countries, and support of the Deaf all over the world who attain great heights in sports.

The opening of the new ICSD office in Lausanne (Switzerland) places the ICSD at the level of the most influential sports organizations in the world. This will also allow ICSD to interact with the IOC and with the SportAccord and SportAccord Convention, which is the umbrella organization for all International Sports Federations and associations.

One of the important steps in the development of the International Deaf Sports is the close cooperation with leading International Sports Organizations and Federations. This cooperation transfers deaf sport to a new level.

The organization of the international tender opens new horizons for the ICSD as it gives the organization an access to work with applications from interested cities from around the globe.

18th WINTER DEAFLYMPICS 2015, KHANTY-MANSIYSK / MAGNITOGORSK

On 20th February 2014 the ICSD made a decision to give the Russian Committee of Deaf Sports the right to conduct the 18th Winter Deaflympics 2015 in Khanty-Mansiysk, Ugra, Russia. The Winter Deaflympics in Ugra were held from the 28 March to 05 April, 2015.

WORLD DEAF CHAMPIONSHIPS

The ICSD is the main governing body which is responsible not only for organizing the Deaflympics, but also World Deaf Championships.

The World Deaf Championships are major international competitions held at least once in four years. The World Championships are the second largest international competitions in different sports after the Deaflympics.

Sport for the Deaf is a competition, self-affirmation, and a way of social rehabilitation. Doing the same sports, sticking to the same rules as other athletes, while being hard of hearing, Deaf athletes achieve the same results and often are even better.

MEDIA

The ICSD is the owner of the global broadcast rights for the Deaflympics and World Deaf Championships - including broadcasts on television, mobile and internet platforms - and is responsible for allocating ICSD broadcast rights to media companies throughout the world through the negotiation of rights agreements.

ICSD is developing its internet resources, social media and covering a vast range of topics concerning not only the Deaflympics, but World Deaf Championships, the ICSD Executive Board activities, interesting facts about Deaf athletes, health, style, lifestyle and much more as well.

With media development, the ICSD will be able to make Deaf sports an integral part of content interesting to users. Through creating useful content and distributing it, the ICSD ultimately increases awareness and popularity for itself. Having your own media resource not only helps attract athletes, but also to create new audiences and educate these audiences about your work.

The work of the ICSD Media will be further developed. This will include content incorporating the latest news in Deaf sports, shared experiences, interviews with experts which will go towards educating and developing supportive audiences.

The production of information materials requires its own production studio. The studio produces photo, video and text materials for media distribution. Your own production allows you to control media products related to the ICSD activities. We hope to achieve this facility in due course.

ICSD content delivery is provided through existing media platforms: the official ICSD website, the organisation's pages in social networks and printed materials distributed by the administration during Congresses; and through other resources including the Olympic Channel website and the Deaf media all over the world.

Media content refers to ICSD activities and is valuable for athletes, people interested in sports and healthy lifestyle. It is not just an information service but also essential for marketing and logistics — intangible assets that make the ICSD a respected organization in the world community.

The provision of information is the most useful, relevant and practical information for sponsors, athletes, and people interested in sports and healthy lifestyle, which can be helpful for the Deaf community.

Media content directed at deaf audiences is best accompanied by international signs and subtitles to emphasize the needs of the Deaf community for inclusive e information. This is the same all over the world. Subtitles will be useful for those who do not know sign language.

We want to make ICSD content available on the media platforms on a regular basis. The ideal minimum frequency of publication is weekly

The types of media content:

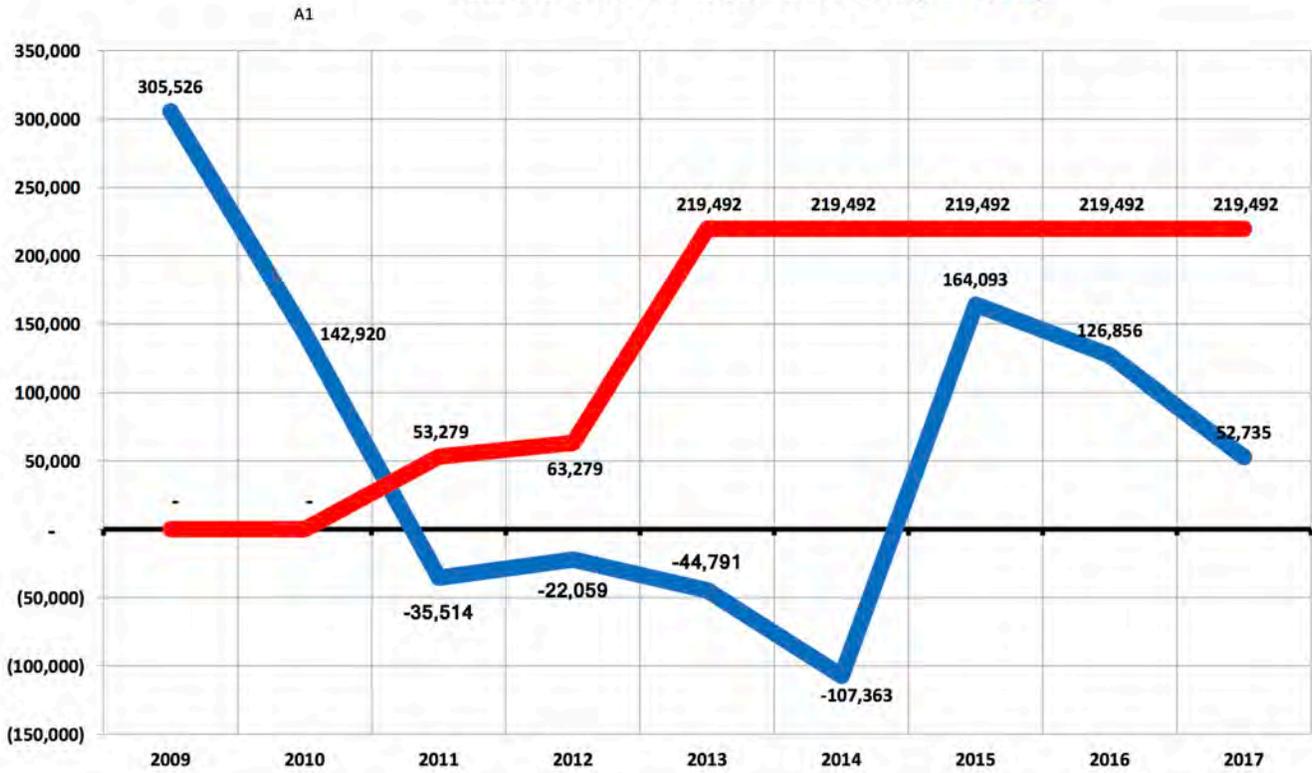

- Announcements, news
- Information including results of competitions
- Interviews
- Practical and useful reviews
- Documentaries including information about the history of Deaf sports
